Six months ago, the town council of Harrowby closed its high street to cars. Local businesses feared the worst. „We thought we would lose half our customers," says baker Tom Riley. Instead, footfall has risen by 22 per cent, according to council figures. Cafés have put tables outside, and a weekly market now fills the street on Saturdays. Not everyone is happy, however. Residents of nearby streets complain about parked cars, and taxi drivers say they have lost income. The council will review the scheme in March.

3 Reading (8 points).

Own words. Facts: numbers and sources. Opinions: says, thinks.

a) What did the council do and what did businesses expect?
It closed the high street to cars; businesses expected to lose many customers.

b) What has changed on the high street? Name two things.
Tables outside cafés, a Saturday market, more visitors.

c) Who is unhappy and why? Nearby residents (parked cars) and taxi drivers (lost income).

d) Fact or opinion? „Footfall has risen by 22 per cent." / „We thought we would lose half our customers." Fact (number, council figures). Opinion / quote (we thought).

4 Writing (10 points): Write a comment (120 to 150 words): Should your town close its high street to cars? Introduction with your opinion, two arguments, one counter-argument, conclusion.

Opinion in the first sentence, counter-argument with however.

a) Use linking words: firstly, moreover, admittedly, however, all in all.
